FOOTBALL BRUTAL GAME, SAYS ELIOT

President of Harvard Declares Sport Is Harmful and Unmanly.

VIGOROUS

Game Causes Distrust and Does Not Give Prestige to Colleges.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Feb. 2.—Foot-ball is denounced as "a hateful fight under the ethics of war' in the annual report of Charles W. Ellot, president of Harvard University, which was mails public yesterday.

President Eliot has long been unfavorably disposed toward this greatest of college games, but he has never attacked it so vigorously before.

Dr. Ellot makes no direct reference to the victory of the University of Pennsylvania eleven over the Harvard team last fall, but eleven over the Harvaru wan actablished anys:

The game is played under established and recognized rules, but the uniform enforcement of these rules is impossible and violations of them are in many respects highly profitable toward victory.

Brutanty rielps to Victory.

Brutanty Heips to Victory.

Brutanty Heips to Victory.

Thus, conching from the side lines, offside play, holding and dirabling opponents by kneeling and kicking and heavy blows on the head, and particularly about the mose, eyes and Jaw, the unquestionably profitable toward victory, and no means have been found of preventing these violations of rules by both players and coaches.
Some players are never guilty of them, and some are only guilty of them when they lose their tempers, but others are institually guilty of them.

One should always try to discover the weakest man in the opponent's line; as, for example, the man most recently injured, and attack him again and again. If a man have repeated blows on the head, and particularly on the law, attack at the peat, and attack him again and set in the peat, and attack him again and the lest are no elaught. If the the last encounter a man has been visibly launed in the lest, arm or shoulder, the brunt of the early attack should fall on him.

As a corollary to this principle, it is justifiable for a player who is in good order to pretend that he is seriously hurt, in order that he may thereby draw the opponent's attack to the wrong place.

These rules of action are all justifiable and necessary in the consummants savagery called war, in which the immediate object is to kill and disable as many of the enemy as possible. But there is no justification for them in manity sport—in gaines between friends. They are essentially ungenerous sind no sport is wholesome in which ungenerous or mean acts which easily escape the state.

N. YORK, Feb. 2.—Another large crown of breeders, turfinen and trainers from all parts of the country attended the Fasig-Tipton sale of trotting herses at Madison Square Garden yesterday, and though the offerings were not so high class as on the two preceding days, prices kept up remarkably weil for the quality of the horses sold.

Metellas, 2:ii, a black stallion, by Mambrino King, out of Metella, by Hamlin's Almont, Jr., was regarded as the star of the day's sale. N. W. Hubinger, of New Haven, paid $15,000 for this horse on the evo of a big race in the Grand Circuit at few years ago, and then wagered about as much more on his chance to win twhich he failed to do. Developing a bad temper, Metellas appeared to be ruined for racing until John Hussesy got him into good humor again and drove him into the second money position in a race trotted in 2:03 at Baltimore. This performance looked so promising that his owner carried him through the remainder of the season without lowering his record, and enlered him extensively in big stakes the next year. He was again a fallure, howover, and when he went into the sale ring yeaterday horsemen estimated that he had cost Mr. Hubinger $40,000 or more.
